Dominica in Septuagesima | II class

Celebrant: Fr. Brian Campbell

Mass Intentions: Aidan Chavez, intentions by Mom and Dad; † Gerad A. Brehm, Sr. by Ned Gusty; † Michael De Marco by Frank Marrone

SEPTUAGESIMA SUNDAY | The three Sundays preceding Ash Wednesday are called Septuagesima, Sexagesima, and Quinquagesima, which mean, respectively, the seventieth, sixtieth, and fiftieth day, that is, before Easter. They are mere names to correspond with the name of Lent (Quadragesima in Latin: fortieth); obviously they do not actually correspond with the period they indicate.

Man, victim of the sin of Adam and of his own sins, is justly afflicted; groans and sorrows encompass him.

On these Sundays, the Gloria in excelsis and Alleluia are omitted, except when the Mass of a feast is said, and violet vestments are used in preparation for Lent.

Bulletins are also available online at <https://www.pblatinmass.com/bulletins>

Join us every Sunday and Holy Days for the Traditional Latin Mass.

TREASURES FROM OUR TRADITION: We can still observe the lost season of Septuagesima

by: Charles, Colulombe The Catholic Herald UK

Like it or not, Christmas has left us. In the Ordinary Form of the Latin Rite we must make do with the first bout of Ordinary Time (a name Benedict XVI confessed to not liking). In the Extraordinary Form and the ex-Anglican Ordinariates, this season continues to bear its hallowed name of “Time after Epiphany”.

The following season is Septuagesima, which begins with the Sunday it takes its name from – February 17 in 2019. The name refers to “Seventy”, as in days till Easter. As a result, the two following Sundays are called Sexagesima and Quinquagesima, as in “Sixty” and “Fifty” (Lent in Latin is Quadragesima, hence the Spanish Cuaresma and French Carême). The two days after Quinquagesima Sunday – Lundi and Mardi Gras in French – lead inevitably into Ash Wednesday. Either way you cut it, we are in Pre-Lent.

The Fall
(Septuagesima)

The Flood
(Sexagesima)

Abraham's Sacrifice
(Quinquagesima)

We Latins, of course, take the plunge into Lent cold turkey, as midnight on Mardi Gras drops us into the penitential season like a jump into a cold pool. Our Eastern brethren ease into it; first the aftermath of Meat Fare Sunday banishes flesh, then the Monday after Cheese Fare Sunday deprives them of eggs and dairy products. Although their entrance dates differ from ours, our ancestors once kept Lent in much the same manner, giving up meat, dairy, and eggs. Hence the great alternative name to this season – Carnival, meaning “goodbye meat” in Latin. Continue reading here: <https://catholicherald.co.uk/magazine/we-can-still-observe-the-lost-season-of-septuagesima/>

God's Resources Inc. is looking for a few Godly and wise women to join our volunteer staff. We have volunteer positions available for client advocates (especially bilingual; English/Spanish and/or English/French speaking) on our mobile pregnancy centers (client advocacy training is provided), and administrative assistance for approximately 6 hours per week. If you have a heart for the preborn and a desire to help young women and men facing an unplanned pregnancy – we need you!
